

Call for AAPPS-DPP Young research award 2023

2023.03.01 AAPPS-DPP

Rev.1 03.31

AAPPS-DPP recognizes young research scientists not more than 40 by AAPPS-DPP young research award since 2016. We will select 2023 winners along with our annual conference during Nov. 12-17, 2023. See past recipients at <http://aappsdp.org/AAPPSDPPF/awardtable.html>. A maximum of one award may be attributed for each of the seven sub-disciplines of the AAPPS-DPP. These sub-disciplines are: Fundamental, Basic, Applied, Laser, Space and Geomagnetism, Solar and Astrophysics, and Magnetic Fusion. When appropriate, the Committee may consider the nominee in a sub-discipline different from the originally nominated one.

Selection committee will be formed under the chairmanship of Prof. Amita Das. Nomination shall be sent to DPP CEO (aapps.dpp.ceo@gmail.com) during March 1 - May 31.

[1] Eligibility: AAPPS-DPP member who, by the date of nomination deadline, is 40 years old (if not reach 41) or younger and 31 years or more. Candidate's main body of works should have AAPPS affiliation* (see 6. For detail).

[2] Qualification: Played a leading role in making a significant research contribution(s) to plasma physics.

[3] Nomination package: No self-nomination.

1. Nominator's name, affiliation and DPP member ID.

2. Candidate's bio-sketch includes date of birth and citation metrics (WoS total cite and H-index) . The bio-sketch of each nominee should provide his/her own statement of why he/she deems deserving the award. This statement should be factual and minimize the use of adjectives and adverbs.

3. Candidate's list of referred journal publications including citations numbers (WoS).

4. Nomination letter: Nominator must be an AAPPS-DPP member. Nomination letter should state a proposed citation.

5. Supporting letters: Maximum at two. Writers not limited to AAPPS-DPP members.

6. Significant publications in PDF format: Maximum at two. For each listed major publication, the nominator should indicate the role(s) played by the nominee and, if possible, the relative weight of his/her contribution. For the two significant papers, at least one should have a primary AAPPS affiliation*.

[4] The recipients will be notified that she/he has to participate and present his/her work in order to receive the award (unless due to some justifiable reasons). We will officially announce the winners at the AAPPS-DPP meeting. This means candidate must submit contributed (or plenary/invited if selected) abstract by its deadline.

[5] Committee will select at maximum one winner from each sub-discipline. Winner will receive US$500 and a certificate.
